A green home doesn't have to compromise beauty or natural light.

Meeting the energy requirements of the Federal Tax Credit, provided by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009, has required the industry to offer enhanced products that offer greater energy savings. ODL has achieved this and is now offering LOW-E PLUS™ as an option on several standard product lines. LOW-E PLUS™ Glass reduces both energy loss (U-Value) and solar heat gain (SHGC). LOW-E PLUS™ is necessary on several full-view glass lights, while standard Low-e will meet the required .30/.30* values on smaller glass sizes. To this point, we have added the LOW-E PLUS™ on full-view glass sizes only.

This price list provides new part numbers for Doorglass Shades, Grilles Between Glass, and 1-Light products. Raise & Lower Blinds already use the LOW-E PLUS™ glass and do not require a change, while the increased thermal performance of the Triple-Glazed Blinds with GBG's will far exceed the energy requirements with standard Low-e glass.

As a customer of ODL Doorglass, the easiest way to certify your units is through NFRC certification, and ODL can assist you with this process. This will allow you to meet guidelines required for the tax credit and allow you to use your own Manufacturer's Certification Statement.

For more details, or to start the certification process, please contact your ODL Sales Representative.

*Products qualifying for the Federal Energy Tax Credit are subject to the entire system rating. LOW-E PLUS™ glass allows you to meet the .30/.30 stimulus requirement in most instances. For simulation data, please visit www.odl.com or contact your ODL Sales Representative.
