A green home doesn't have to compromise beauty or natural light.

Meeting the energy requirements of the Federal Tax Credit, provided by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009, has required the industry to offer enhanced products that offer greater energy savings. ODL has achieved this and is now offering LOW-E as an option on several standard decorative glass product lines. LOW-E Decorative Doorglass reduces both energy loss (U-Value) and solar heat gain (SHGC). LOW-E is necessary on full-view decorative glass lights to meet the required .30/.30* values. To this point, we have added the LOW-E on full-view decorative glass sizes only.

This price list provides new part numbers for LOW-E Decorative Doorglass. As a customer of ODL Doorglass, the easiest way to certify your units is through NFRC certification, and ODL can assist you with this process. This will allow you to meet guidelines required for the tax credit and allow you to use your own Manufacturer's Certification Statement. For more details, or to start the certification process, please contact your ODL Sales Representative.

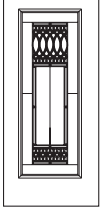

*Products qualifying for the Federal Energy Tax Credit are subject to the entire system rating. LOW-E Decorative Doorglass allows you to meet the .30/.30 stimulus requirement in most instances. For simulation data, please visit www.odl.com or contact your ODL Sales Representative.
